

SAPULPA IS SORE LADEN

The Hard Losers Resort Mis-Statements as an Excuse.

These extracts from the Sapulpa Democrat regarding the baseball game of last Sunday shows the state of feeling at that place. They are hard losers:

"Vinita promised to come down here Sunday, but it's a two to one bet that Vinita will never play Sapulpa on her diamond or on neutral grounds. They can't afford to."

"Ferd Lemon, of Vinita, who started to umpire the game Saturday, was cut out of the game by the team of this city as he was giving fair decisions. He told them in a straightforward manner that they could not defeat Sapulpa in a fair game, and Ferd Lemon was right. After having promised to come down here next Sunday the Vinita club backed down."

"The treatment Parks and Blue-jacket received at the hands of Vinita, and for that matter the entire club, was shameful in the extreme. They not only abused boys on the diamond but the city marshal and others followed them to the depot and tried their best to pick a fight. The Sapulpa boys acted the part of gentlemen and avoided a racket. A worse lot of hoodlums than infest that town would be hard to find."

"The Sapulpa boys were never guilty of such outrageous conduct as that indulged in by Vinita Sunday, and the day they begin such practice, if ever, every citizen of this town should resent and should withdraw every penny of patronage from them; but there is no danger, the boys play a good clean game and depend upon their skill to win the games—not on sandbagging. Their course is the proper one and is bound to win in the end."

POSTAL TELEGRAPH.
Lines Completed and New Local Office Will Soon Be Opened.

In an interview with the superintendent of construction of the Postal Telegraph Company published in the Joplin Globe that gentleman was made to say that the company had reached Vinita in stretching the north and south wires and that an office had been opened here. As a matter of fact the wires were stretched a week or two ago, the line men keeping well up to the pole planting crew. No office, however, has been opened here, but will be, it is authoritatively announced, within the next few weeks.

Suit on a Note.
Smith & Leforce have commenced an action in the Federal court against W. H. Moreland, by which they seek to recover $234, alleged to be due on a note made to Isaac Rippetoe and assigned to them.

Blush Didn't Work.
The ultimatum by General Superintendent Alvord, of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, that no telegrapher who failed to resume work at noon Friday should ever again be employed by the "Katy," does not seem to have had any effect. The strikers state that not a single one heeded the ultimatum. The strikers are as confident of final victory as ever.

Discharged for Grafting.
As the result of an investigation in the land office at Tishomingo, it has been developed that attorneys have been paying for information in connection with the allotment of lands in the Chickasaw nation. One clerk has been suspended, and it is said the matter will be investigated. The testimony of an attorney involved one of the former prominent officials of the land office.

Liquor Peddlers Fined.
Jesse Caps, alias Summerfield, and Peter Youngwolf, of Pryor Creek, were brought to the city Friday by Deputy Marshal A. T. Beggers and locked in jail. The two men were bound over in the Commissioner's court upon charges of introducing and selling liquor.

The Mighty Fall Hard.
The Tulsa team, which our boys defeated with a score of 2 to 0 last Tuesday, done the Sapulpa boys to a rich brown Friday by a score of 15 to 2. Blue-jacket pitched and was pounded all over the field with a support that was amateurish in the extreme. These are the alleged players who thought they could beat Vinita and who claim they were robbed out of the game.

Consumption Threatened.
C. Unger, 211 Maple-st., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since." People's drug store.

A Physician Healed.
Dr. Geo. Ewing, a practicing physician of Smith's Grove, Ky., for over thirty years, writes his personal experience with Foley's Kidney Cure: "For years I had been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostate gland. I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use Foley's Kidney Cure. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. I prescribe it now daily in my practice and heartily recommend its use to all physicians for such troubles. I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with perfect success." People's drug store.

PROPER CARE OF THE FEET.

Simple Treatment for Swelling, Callosities and Ingrowing Nails.

In no part of the body is there more absolutely unnecessary suffering caused by abuse and neglect than in the feet. These faithful, long-tried servants do not receive half the care they need, says the Philadelphia Press. If inclined to swell after long standing or afflicted with that mysterious complaint called "spring fever," they should be given frequent hot baths, with sea salt and borax dissolved in the water, followed by a thorough massage with alcohol or bay rum. When there are calloused spots—often caused by ill-fitting shoes or a seam in the hose—olive oil or cold cream rubbed in thoroughly at night will quickly soften them and aid in their removal.

Night and morning dips in cold or warm water, as is most convenient, should never be omitted, and the daily rubbing with cologne, bay rum or alcohol will keep them fit for any amount of tramping, provided, of course, that justice be done them in the matter of shoes. These should be neither too large nor too small; one is as great an evil as the other. They should hold the feet firmly in a gentle clasp that prevents rubbing or slipping anywhere.

A medium heel is better than the radically low one, which spreads the foot and strains the arch of the instep. An absurdly high heel is an iniquitous abuse of the foot, a proof of the extreme folly, and hourly invites a whole crop of evils—bunions, corns, ingrowing nails—and manifold deformities follow their use.

A frequent change of shoe is better for both feet and shoes, and helps to keep both in good condition. It is a bad habit to wear the same shoes indoors as when walking and a demoralizing one to indulge in shapeless house shoes, run down at the heel. Always for its health and comfort the foot should be tidily and trimly shod.

A little pedicuring semi-weekly after a hot foot bath is just as important as manicuring. All callous spots should be gently scraped. This treatment, together with protection of the parts affected by a chamois plaster having a hole in the center, will in a short time free the feet from these afflictions.

The pain from an ingrowing toe nail can be relieved by treating with a mixture composed of one ounce of chloride of zinc and one drachm each of muriatic and nitric acids; mix them thoroughly and apply one drop daily to the afflicted toe.

PRETTY COATS OF TAFFETA

Elaborate Little Garments That Are Delighting the Lovers of Fine Dress.

Beautiful coats are made of tan colored taffeta and of black taffeta and white. These taffeta coats are delightful in cut and are made in all the varieties and vagaries of Dame Fashion's dictate, says the Brooklyn Eagle.

One of the prettiest styles is that of a modified kimono. This is straight and is finished around the bottom with strapings of cloth. The cloth, which is not more than half an inch wide, is stitched along both edges. It extends up the front and all around the lower edge of the coat. A similar band of taffeta is used to outline the yoke and extends around the neck and up on the coat in great swirls.

The sleeves of this taffeta kimono are very wide and are finished with stitched bands of cloth, which is also put on in swirls. The yoke is trimmed with swirls of cloth stitched upon both edges.

The vest of this coat is fashioned of Persian embroidery, which is carried out in many colors. Red and blue and green are outlined upon a background of pastel tone.

An elaborate little coat of this kind can be worn either with a silk skirt or one of cloth and is equally pretty with satin or with taffeta. It makes a nice little coat for calling and reception wear and it makes a pretty coat for gray days and rougher occasions.

Banana Shortcake.
A recipe said to be delicious is banana shortcake. Make a rich tea biscuit crust, bake in jelly cake tins in not too thick layers. When done, split open with fork and butter while hot, three layers being enough for one cake. The two bottom layers are one top make the best shape. Take about three good-sized thoroughly ripe bananas and shred finely with a fork. Spread a layer of the fruit on the crust, adding the least bit of salt, and sprinkle well with powdered sugar. Add the next layer in the same way. On the last one spread fruit very thickly well mixed with sugar, so as to form a sort of icing. Serve with soft custard flavored with vanilla.

Current Pie.
Heat to the boiling point as many currants, stemmed and washed, as you will need for pies. Allow a cupful of sugar for each pie and a half cupful of boiled rice. Make with an under crust, using a deep pie tin. Fill three-fourths full of the currants, cover with a rich paste and bake about 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Dust the top with powdered sugar before serving.—Washington Star.

THE DANGERS IN DUST.

Draperies and Carpets Are the Breeding Places of Disease Germs.

Whether the bacilli that cause tuberculosis in the human being are the same as those which cause it in other warm-blooded animals and even fish, or whether they merely change their appearance with their environment, is a question for the bacteriological expert, says Everybody's Magazine. That we may become infected from other animals has not the vital interest that the undoubted fact has that we can, and do, become infected by the germs that other men carry about, and that the home, the place where we take refuge from the ills of life, is precisely where this dread disease attacks us. Inside the four walls of our houses are where these deadly germs are implanted, are nurtured and bring forth their harvest. It is at home we must begin to defend ourselves. It is the part of wisdom to do away with dust-catching draperies and carpets. Have the rugs shaken and beaten out of doors. If you must have carpets, sweep them with wet tea leaves sprinkled on them. Wipe the furniture with a moist cloth, not stir the dust about with a bunch of feathers on a stick. Dust is dangerous. Remember that. Better to have some little white "dust" in the dust upon the mantelpiece than cloud the air with it and poison the whole family.

THE FRESH GROCERYMAN

Tried to Get Solid with the Pretty Cook While Working for an Order.

"Cherries is ripe," said the groceryman, producing his order book and sinking into the kitchen rocker with a sigh of content. "Fresh picked from the tree, sound in wind and limb and free from vice. Want some?"

"Who told you you could sit down in that chair?" demanded the pretty cook, relating the Chicago Daily News.

"Nobody," replied the groceryman, "but it looks easy. I was told 'ble sure I could do it if I tried. The hard work'll be to get up again. How's the girl this fine chilly summer mornin'?"

"What—'er?"

"You, lovelessness."

"See here," said the pretty cook, "you're too fresh to keep. What are the cherries worth?"

"Thirty-five a box."

"Keep 'em!"

"They're worth that, but we've got 'em marked down to two boxes for a quarter. Full quart boxes; six of 'em would come near filling a gallon measure. Tradin' stamp with every box. Say, Evelina, didn't I see you a Sunday afternoon in the park in a blue hat?"

"I went out in the country a Sunday afternoon."

"Well, I seen some girl in a blue hat. I was drivin' in my ortemabubble an' I couldn't see it, but if it had be'n you, an' I hadn't be'n in a hurry, I'd 'a' give you an invite to take a ride. How many cherries do you want?"

"You can bring me a couple of boxes if they're any good. If they ain't you'll have the pleasure o' takin' 'em back. Would you like a piller for your head?"

"Don't trouble," replied the groceryman. "It's kind o' you to offer, but I can't stay long anyway. I jest thought I'd run in an' see if there wasn't nothin' I could do for you. Honey?"

The pretty cook gave him a look of scorn and indignation.

"I say we've got a lot of white clover honey. I know you don't need sweet'nin', but it might do for the fam'ly. Eighteen a box. No? Well, you say somethin', then. Laundry soap—Mother's Marvel—washes the most delicate fabrics 'bout crockin', shrinkin' or runnin' down at the heel. Eggs? Fancy pedigreed eggs—real shell—no celluloid imitations. Matchest?"

"You may bring me two dozen eggs and a can o' bakin' powder, half a dozen lemons an' two pounds o' coffee."

"Goin' to make coffee-cake?"

"Never you mind what I'm goin' to make. Oh, and I want butter. Two pounds o' butter an' a couple o' bunches o' sparrergress. I guess that's all. Was you in the park, honest, a Sunday afternoon?"

"Sure thing. And there was a girl in a blue hat there, too. I wouldn't strine you, Evelina."

"Don't you think you're smart?"

"I wouldn't be to blame if I did. Most everybody else does. So you think that will be about all, do you? Say, the nex' time you make a date with me, an' don't keep it it'll be because I've lost my memory, I tell you those."

"Well, I was there," said the pretty cook. "You wasn't, though."

"Come on."

"I was honest."

"Well, I missed you, then. I stayed around for—"

There was the sound of a footstep beyond the inner kitchen door, and the groceryman jumped hastily out of the chair and began to write in his order book. "Cherries, eggs, bakin' powder, lemons, coffee, butter an' sparrergress," he repeated in brisk business-like tones as the lady of the house entered. "That all? Thank you."

Emperor's Secret Journeys.
A book recently published in Paris abounds in hitherto unpublished details regarding the German emperor's life. It declared that he visits Paris every year, choosing a different title for each visit, and that he is carefully watched by French detectives, for should he be recognized he would be almost sure to suffer insult. Two years ago he was recognized by a newspaper man while in a railway station. The reporter politely asked a question, addressing him as "your majesty." Suddenly four men surrounded the inquisitive journalist and hurried him from the station. They were detectives who had been assigned to guard the distinguished traveler.
